Independence Day Fun

While the day started off cloudy, the skies cleared up just in time for the annual Independence Day parade to start. Leading the parade was the Haddon Heights Police Chief Richard Kinkler, Haddon Heights Fire Department, and of course our Mayor Ed Forte and Council. Our Grand Marshall this year was none other than our former Mayor and Veteran Augie Longo waving to the crowd with his son Peter driving the convertible and surrounded by his grandchildren. Our Independence Day Queen was Faith McCleery and her Court Sammy Baker, Shanon-Imani Benjamin, and Prasanna Tati riding in the convertible driven by the Bakers.

Over 40 other entries filled Station Avenue with music, entertainment and fun. Police cars, fire trucks and ambulances were just part of the excitement during the parade. Following in the parade were our sport teams, scouts, soldier, cool cars, motorcycles, Corvettes, bands, floats, community groups, bicycles and those adorable babies and toddlers riding their decorated bicycles, scooters or getting a ride in their wagons. Many thanks to Jim Cox and his crew for organizing the line up for this entry into the parade. Another thank you to Steve Berryhill for handling the older crowd of bicyclists at Caroles Candy corner.

As the parade reached Hoff's Park, the After Parade festivities kicked off. There were two gigantic inflatables, face painting, and DJ sponsored by the Borough, along with other vendors providing yummy food.

A big thank you goes out to Trish Shields, Bob Hunter, and Bridgette Fultano for assisting in lining up and keeping the parade route moving, as well as all the other volunteers who helped make the 2015 Fourth of July a success.

If you would like to volunteer or participate in next year's parade, contact Susan Griffith at sgriffith@haddonhts.com

From Summer Rec!

Happy youngsters, great staff and volunteers plus generous community support add up to another wonderful Summer Rec season.

We had fun every day and learned some new skills along the way. About 60 youngsters came each week meaning over 300 enjoyed mornings filled with crafts, games, sports and science activities. Our directors, teen counselors, cadets and volunteers Wilma Hickman and Barbara Clay are a fabulous team!

Directors Stacey Denning and Kenny Hamburger join me in thanking the many residents and "camper families" who donated items for this program. We used everything! We are grateful to Cynthia Hoff's family who contributed many items in her memory.

We are all ready planning for the 2016 season; look for registration information in January!

MAYOR'S MESSAGE:

Dear Neighbors:

We were very lucky that the last few summer storms did not affect us as much as our neighbors. I would like to focus on Disaster Preparedness at Home and some basic items it is recommended you have on hand. There are six basic items you should stock in your home: water, food, first aid supplies, clothing and bedding, tools and emergency supplies like flashlights with extra batteries, and special items. Keep the items that you would most likely need in an easy-to-carry container, such as a large, covered trash container, a backpack or a duffle bag. Also here are a few web sites from the CDC that you could check out for a more detailed list.

Food:
<http://emergency.cdc.gov/preparedness/kit/food/index.asp>

Water:
<http://emergency.cdc.gov/preparedness/kit/water/index.asp>

The summer storm season is not over, we have been advised that PSE&G has a new feature on its website to track power outages during storms or other events that result in a loss of power. Hopefully, this will be a way to communicate important information in the event you experience a loss of power. You can check it out at www.pseg.com.

Our annual July 4th Independence Day celebration went off without a hitch. I want to thank the many volunteers who worked so hard to coordinate these events. I also want to thank our Police Department and Public Works Department for all of the hard work they did to make this day safe and successful for everyone. It was a great day and wonderful to see so many of you along the parade route.

Our Summer Rec Program is in full swing and is once again a resounding success. We have filled every available spot for the five (5) weeks the Program runs. Summer Rec is so valuable for a number of reasons; not only does it give our youth great recreational activities right here in our town, it also gives some of our young adults a great opportunity to have a summer job working with our youth. This program would not exist without the tireless efforts and leadership of Council President Kathy Lange. I would like to personally thank her and her staff for all of their hard work in making this Program such and success and something we all can be proud of.

The tax bills are a bit behind schedule and have just been mailed out mid July. Because of this, the grace period to pay with no interest has been extended until Wednesday August 19th until 5:00pm.

There are two big fall events to look forward to after a great summer. First the Neighbor's Night Out Committee has scheduled there annual Spaghetti Dinner on Station Avenue for Sunday, September 13th .This is one of our most successful community events and usually sells out early. Keep tuned to our website for further details about this fun, low cost event for the entire family. I hope to see many of you there. Next is our Fall Festival which will be on Saturday October 3rd Rain date, Sunday, October 4, 2015

I wish all a great rest of the summer. As always, if there is anything your Mayor or Council can do to improve your experience as a resident, please do not hesitate to get in touch with Borough Hall. Mayor's Office Hours are included on the cover of this HEIGHTS REPORT.

...Haddon Savings Bank Does Not Sell Their Residential Mortgage Loans?

Having your mortgage sold to some other bank can be frustrating, distressing and a little hurtful—especially when you originated it with a local bank because you wanted to deal with your “friends” at your hometown bank instead of a faceless financial conglomerate.

Your mortgage from Haddon Savings stays here for the life of the loan, so you'll always get the friendly service you've grown to depend on for over 100 years.

Call or visit your nearest Haddon Savings Bank branch for your next mortgage and keep it here.

Note from your Haddon Heights' Tax Assessor

New Jersey Law requires the Tax Assessor's office to keep all property assessments current. The Assessor's inspector may visit your property if the property owner or their contractor obtained a building permit to build a new building, or update, improve, expand, remodel, redecorate, rehab and/or demolish an existing building located in Haddon Heights. Please cooperate with the Assessor's inspector who will perform an interior and exterior examination of your home or business, and request information to confirm the type of work done, or to be done, the cost of the project, and the date the job was, or is to be completed. This inspection is in addition to any inspection(s) required by the Haddon Heights Building Inspection Department. The inspector will visit your property unannounced in the day, early evening, or on a Saturday. This method of inspection is very cost effective and I greatly appreciate your help allowing the inspector to collect the data required. The inspectors who work for the Tax Assessor's office are Kathleen Moore (Kate), Judith Shoemaker (Judi), Louis Principato (Lou), and myself. Each inspector will wear an official Haddon Heights Borough ID Badge.

If you have any questions or concerns please do not hesitate to call Tax Assessor's Office at 856-547-7164 ex 21. Thank you for your anticipated cooperation with the inspection process.

Thank You, Thomas J. Colavecchio
Tax Assessor

Emergency Management C.E.R.T. Team

Audubon and Barrington have invited Haddon Heights' residents to be part of their C.E.R.T. team.

What is C.E.R.T.? C.E.R.T. stands for Community Response Team – a group of community members who are trained to care for themselves, their families and their neighbors in the event of a disaster. CERT educates the team about disaster preparedness for hazards that may impact their area and trains them in basic response skills – fire safety, light search and rescue, team organization and disaster medical operations. Team members use what they have learned in their classroom training and exercises to assist others in their neighborhood or workplace after an event when professional responders are not available. Members are encouraged to support emergency response agencies and take a more active role in emergency preparedness projects in their own communities. CERT training

Haddon Heights Good Neighbors

Without a sense of caring, there can be no sense of community

~Anthony J. D'Angelo, author

Just because 7,500 people live together in a town doesn't necessarily make it a community. The essence of what makes a community is connection. The people of Haddon Heights are linked through our schools, our places of worships, our sports teams, our downtown, etc. But beyond that, Haddon Heights is bound together by our commitment to help one another. That spirit is embodied in Haddon Heights Good Neighbors (HHGN).

HHGN was formed in 1979 to provide short-term financial assistance of a material nature to residents in need. As an organization of the people, by the people, and for the people of Haddon Heights, we pride ourselves on helping members of our town when they are struggling. After all, shouldn't a sense of community come with a sense of responsibility?

Haddon Heights High School

Academically, the class of 2015 has been extremely successful. In the fall, 61 percent of the class of 2015 will be attending four year colleges; 32 percent, two year colleges; and 7 percent will be entering the work force or the armed services.

Some of the colleges they will be attending in the fall are: Boston University, Camden County College, Drexel, Haverford, LaSalle, Lafayette, Michigan State, The College of New Jersey, University of Penn, Rowan University, Rutgers, St. Joe's, Temple, Ohio State, United States Merchant Marine Academy, United States Naval Academy, and Villanova.

Athletically, the Senior class had an amazing year as well. The Senior class had a huge part in the Girls' Track Team winning the Colonial Conference Patriot Division and the Sectional Championship in the 4 x 100 meter relay.

The Seniors also played a major role in the Baseball Team winning the Conference Championship and the South Jersey Sectional Championship.

The Marching Band and Color Guard won US Bands National Group One Championship for the second consecutive year.

Haddon Heights Baptist Church

This Summer, Haddon Heights Baptist Church goes "To The Edge" In Vacation Bible School to "Encounter The God Of The Universe."

Students who blast off in VBS this July will witness God's great power as they explore deep space, traveling beyond our solar system. They will learn what God, the Creator of all, is like-His love, holiness, forgiveness and plan of salvation.

Vacation Bible School for ages 4 through 6th grade begins July 27th through the 31st from 9 am to 12 noon. A Mothers' Class will be held concurrently and a nursery is available for children ages 0 through 3 years. Registration forms can be downloaded from www.haddonheightsbaptist.org.

The Shepherd's Department of special needs students journeyed "To The Edge" in their Vacation Bible School from July 6th through the 10th. They enjoyed games, crafts, snacks and Bible lessons.

All Sunday adult community groups have been meeting together this Summer to study important current event, doctrinal and character issues. Entitled "Powerful Possibilities," topics through June and July have included "Just Wars," "Prosperity Theology," "Alternative Lifestyles," "Biblical Economics," "Victory Over Addictions" and "Personal Purity. August topics will include "Social Media Tools," "Gambling," "Feminism," "One Creator, One Race," and "Immigration." The course of study concludes on September 6th with "The Christian's Role In Government."

The Fall season of community group studies begins with a Pancake Breakfast on September 13th at 8:30 am. All are invited to enjoy a hearty breakfast and heartwarming fellowship as the new Sunday School year begins.

On July 19th, missionaries Konstantin and Nadia Kamilchu, ministering in the Ukraine and Russia, presented powerful images of their ministry in a strife-torn region of Asia.

AWANA, which stands for Approved Workmen Are Not Ashamed, is a kids club for children ages 3 through 6th grade. Emphasis is on wholesome game activity, Scripture memorization and Bible-based teaching. AWANA meets Wednesdays, September through April, from 7:00 pm to 8:30 pm. All are welcome and parents of clubbers can attend Bible Study groups, held at the same time as club. AWANA resumes the second Wednesday of September.

Haddon Heights Baptist Church provides several housing units on campus for missionaries on between-field ministries. Currently, John and Roberta Stevenson, church rescue specialists, are spending furlough time enjoying these facilities.

Zone Gardening & Watering Chores

About 20 years ago there was a popular health book called The Zone where if I recall, due in part to the book, carbs became the bad guys of the diet world. I read the book and promptly decided after a joyless week without my beloved pasta and bread the program was not for me. But this is not about diets. Here is what I mean about garden zones: There are hardiness zones for plants, which are set by the good folk at the USDA. In creating my online gardening class this past winter I went to the USDA website and saw this cool thing where you can enter your zip code and learn the NEW hardiness zone for your garden. Pretty slick, I think. This doesn't fully address the zone issue, though.

I categorize my gardens and those I design for my clients into WATER zones: A, B, C. "Zone Gardening" is a water-smart way to garden. The "Zone A" is the section of your garden that is closest to the water source, whether this is hose bib, rain barrel, drip irrigation. This is the zone where you want to locate your most needy plants in the water department--annuals and vegetables primarily, container plantings, things with shallow roots that dry out quickly and thus need more hydration. Logic says the plants that need the most water should be closest to the water source; it is a work load issue as well as a best-practice for your plants. Following this are plants that do just fine with the typical water from the sky-- Zone B; and lastly, Zone C is for the plants that can take the Southern NJ heat come August and not blink a pretty petal. And you won't lose sleep over drooping leaves.

It might come as a surprise to you to hear me say that there is one garden chore I dislike more than any other. In fact, it may be the only chore I don't like much at all--dragging a hose.

I will start off to say that the first step with the hose in our garden is to reach behind some lovely shrub where the hose hangs looped on a bracket attached to the fence. Since our garden is water-wise already, I don't use the hose very often (which is why it is located behind a shrub to begin with) and because of this, without exception, there is a healthy wad of spider web to contend with. I gulp hard and make my move. Then, I have to very carefully and strategically get the hose out into the open of the stone walk. Despite focused attention, I still manage to break stems. Then there are the kinks and the animation. I am convinced that my hose takes fiendish delight in wrapping itself around my ankle at every possible opportunity, gnarling itself to defy the hardest snap I can provide, requiring me to take steps all the way back to set it straight for flow. So much for my prayer for patience. Or perhaps that is the point but just the same by now there are "words" I should not say around young flowers. But the worst part of all is the patch of prickly pear cactus that the hose finds to drag itself through--no matter what. I am convinced that getting within a foot of that plant is like encountering a bunch of medieval soldiers poised with arrows atop a castle wall. The cactus shoots out hair-like thorns that will penetrate a glove, lodge under a sock intent on ruining the most beautiful garden work day. Why do I have this evil plant, you ask? Because the yellow flowers are so beautiful and there are not a lot of yellow flowers I really like. So they stay and I keep a distance. I even pull weeds among their paddles with TONGS.

Now that I've had my rant, back to the Zones: the point is, take some time to assess what is going on in your garden in terms of these Zones. With spring here (sort of) you might consider transplanting some things to put them into the Zone that makes life better for them--and for you. It also might help you make better plant selections, and in the ecological sense as it will help you use less water. If you use a rain barrel, by locating your containers close to it you may find that it collects enough water to keep you from using municipal water at all, which was the case in our garden last summer.

Have ideas to share? I'd love to hear about what you are doing in your garden that helps conserve watering chores. Email me at jean@greenjeangardens.com

Sustainable Summer Yard Care

Many people long for a lush green lawn, from spring through fall. As the rains of late spring and early summer decrease, it is perfectly normal for lawns to turn brown as the temperature rises since most of our lawns are cool weather grasses. Many homeowners think it means that the lawn has died when, in reality, it is simply dormant. Don't fertilize or reseed in an attempt to revitalize the lawn.

Water lawns and garden beds once a week, early in the morning. Provide 1 to 1 ½ inches of water at one time if possible. Frequent watering for short periods of time makes the problem worse since it prevents the lawn from forming deep, healthy roots. Watering mid-day is wasteful since most of the water evaporates. Watering in the evening increases the chance of fungus and other diseases since the lawn and plant foliage stays wet all night. When that happens, homeowners frequently reach for chemicals to fix the problem and put more contaminants in the soil. Invest in an inexpensive rain gauge or simply repurpose a clean, standard-size tuna can or cat food can which is 1 inch high. Be sure to put the rain gauge in an open area where no plantings to obstruct collection. Use this as a guide and only water if the weekly total is less than 1 inch.

Don't mow the lawn during a dry spell as it stresses the lawn. Keep the mower at its highest setting. After mowing, the lawn should be 3 inches high. High grass holds more moisture, fights weed growth, and helps develop deeper roots. Do not bag the grass clippings, but leave them on the lawn to provide free fertilizer. It saves time and effort as well as decreases yard waste for the town to collect. Over-watering and over-fertilizing create thatch, not leaving clippings on the lawn. Do not fertilize during the hot, dry summer since it can damage the lawn. Lawn services often do things routinely, so be sure to tell them how you want your lawn cared for when it is hot and dry.

Lawns are not sustainable due to their water and fertilizer needs as well as the pollution caused by mowers and edgers. While we have not suffered the severe droughts affecting other areas of our country, it is likely we will feel its effects at some point in time. Now is the time to change your lawn routine to a more sustainable one. Next year consider decreasing the amount of lawn in your yard by planting drought-resistant ground covers or increasing the size of garden beds with native plantings, which generally are drought-resistant once established.

Energy Costs Getting Higher?

Reducing energy consumption by two percent in New Jersey could put $130 million in the pockets of consumers and eliminate 1 million tons of carbon emissions – equal to taking 200,000 cars off the road. (This estimate is based on research about what other states are doing to promote energy efficiency and our familiarity with New Jersey's efforts).

In short, energy efficiency investments are wins for the customer, for the environment, and for our shareholders—and they create jobs.

Everyone can benefit from improved efficiency – and everyone can win if the benefit is shared. That's the promise of energy efficiency – and the beauty of doing more with less.
