The Soldiers Are Coming

The Borough will again host re-enactors from the Second Pennsylvania Regiment of the Continental Army and the British 43rd Regiment of Foot in Camden County Park on North Park Drive, on Saturday, October 13 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., rain or shine.

Haddon Heights is a registered town in the Crossroads of the American Revolution, a National Heritage Area between Philadelphia and New York. The Revolutionary War was a series of a few great battles but many skirmishes. Troops fought in this corridor to protect or sabotage movement between these cities. Local militia harassed the British by destroying bridges, including the corduroy bridge over King's Highway, cutting down trees to block roads and firing into the lines. The British in turn ransacked homes and businesses, including the Glover

House and Fulling Mill, and stole food and livestock and ravished the Patriot women. This war was fought on our own soil.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE:

Dear Residents:

It seems like just yesterday that we were gearing up for summer. With the anticipation of a beautiful fall season comes some great events that generate a lot of pride in our town. We all know our town is a special and unique place to live. I hope that all of you are able to participate in some way in one or more of our civic events. Thanks to our dedicated Borough staff, volunteers and vibrant business community, we are able to bring to bear a level of creativity and excitement that few other towns can match.

On Saturday, October 6th, we will have our annual Fall Festival and Corvette Show on Station Avenue. Our town is known throughout the area for this event. It is always well attended by residents and visitors alike. Four blocks on Station Avenue will be full of vendors and entertainment for all ages. Our various civic groups will also be out in full force. Please come down anytime between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. to check out all of the fun activities planned for you and your family. Bring your friends and your neighbors, and maybe even make some new friends while you're down on Station Avenue that day. I will be there all day, so please feel free to stop by and say hello! We could not pull off an event like this without the dedication and support from our volunteers and local businesses, so I want to thank them and encourage them to keep up the wonderful community spirit!

On Saturday, October 13th, on North Park Drive, we will again host the Revolutionary War living history event. This free event will take place from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and will feature re-enactors setting up camps, portraying typical troops on both sides of the American Revolution. This event is a great way to honor and learn about the role our own area played in the American Revolution. I would like to thank Councilwoman Rose Fitzgerald for all of the time spent every year making this event the success that it always is.

I am delighted to report that we've had our second Neighbor's Night Out event of the year, with our Sunday, September 23rd Pop-Up Italian Restaurant on Station Avenue. The hard work of our Neighbor's Night Out Committee really showed through at this event and at the evening event we had in June on Atlantic Avenue. I am thrilled that we have brought back these great events that raise money for good causes and bring our town together as neighbors. As you probably remember, the June event raised thousands of dollars to repair our Public Safety Memorial Clock. The September event raised money to enhance our holiday decorations on Station Avenue. Keep your eyes peeled for more great Neighbor's Night Out events next year. I would like to thank the entire Neighbor's Night Out Committee for all of their hard work in putting these events together. A special thank you goes to our former Mayor and current Councilwoman Susan Griffith, who always goes well above and beyond the call of duty whenever a volunteer is needed in town.

On the government end, we haven't taken our focus off making sure that we carefully administer the tax dollars we ask you to contribute. I am pleased to report that, although many other towns around us continue to experience financial crunches, with drastic cuts in services, we have been able to enhance the services we offer you while keeping the municipal portion of your property taxes well under control. We have been able to build up a surplus account, which, unfortunately, we did not have for the many years when we were depending on state "extraordinary aid" to balance our budget. If we were still dependent on extraordinary aid, we would have had to pass a massive tax increase coupled with drastic service reductions on to you because the state no longer provides extraordinary aid to towns like ours. While there is always room for improvement, I am pleased with the progress we have made together.

Do You Need the Fall "Function Better Program"?

Each fall, many folks enjoy activities such as going for cool afternoon walks as the leaves are falling, attending football or soccer games, raking leaves, picking pumpkins, tending to some gardening prior to winter and even doing some early Christmas shopping in town. Mayor's Message

You can rest assured that your municipal government will continue to keep it about you and your money – because we work for you, not the other way around.

To further our goal of trying to find savings where possible, we have entered into a shared services agreement with a number of our surrounding towns. Along with our surrounding towns, we sometimes have equipment that is not being used. This agreement allows us to borrow equipment that we might need from other towns and vice versa. This agreement will allow us to avoid a situation where we might have needed to purchase expensive equipment. The agreement also provides that, for example, if our own construction code official is not available, we can borrow another town's code official without having to pay for it. This common sense approach should result in greater efficiency and savings over time. It is a model for how we can work with our neighboring towns to save money without giving up control over aspects of our town's government.

Please enjoy the fall and remember to drive carefully, as our kids are back in school. Please be mindful that kids will soon be coming home from after school activities when it is getting dark. Remember that your municipal government is here to serve you – feel free to call, e-mail, write or stop by at my open office hours (listed on the cover of this paper) if there is anything your government can do for you.

Edward S. Forte, Jr., Mayor

The Haddon Heights Police Department
"Hue & Cry" Undercover Traffic Enforcement Near Schools

By Chief Richard Kinkler

The Haddon Heights Police Department will have a Zero Tolerance policy for vehicles parked illegally and speeding near our schools. It will be enforced by an officer in an unmarked vehicle in addition to regular patrol.

Parking violators will not be issued on the spot but rather mailed summonses when a violation is observed. This has resulted in better compliance which will improve safety around the schools.

My hope is that residents read this article and comply with statutes. We ask that you spread the word by telling your friends that the Police Department will have a Zero Tolerance policy. Our goal is to have a safe school zone for our children!

HEIGHTS BUSINESS SPOTLIGHT

Pinetina Center for Italian Art and Culture

Antonina Bellesorte

Antonina Bellesorte opened Pinetina as a place where people of all ages can immerse themselves in the delights of Italy – the beautiful language, fabulous food, and rich artistic traditions and culture.

A native of Italy, Antonina has taught the Italian language for many years, working with schools and private students alike. Fluent in both Italian and English, she also works as an interpreter for the Italian Consulate, the US court system, private companies such as AT&T, and government agencies such as the FBI and the Immigration Department.

In addition to her passion for language, Antonina is also a prize-winning cook whose delightful specialty meals have graced the tables of many South Jersey families.

These interests have inspired Antonina to open Pinetina Center teach Italian to individuals as well as small groups. While cooking lessons are not possible in the E. Atlantic Avenue location, Antonina does offer the fine art of Italian cooking to individuals and groups at other locations.

Annalisa Salomone was born in Bologna in 1975 to Italian artist teacher Angela Quintavalle. She has degrees in art and business and worked for Nike in Italy. Two years ago she moved to the US with her husband because of his job. That is when Annalisa started doing full time what she loved to do when in Italy: paint. At Pinetina Center, Annalisa assists teaching Italian as well as painting.

You will find lessons for both adults and children at Pinetina. Using Montessori methods, children are quickly immersed in Italian culture and language.

Italian for travelers provides the language skills needed to easily travel in Italy.

Seniors can arrange classes that provide basic conversation without homework or grammar lessons.

If you want to learn Italian but believe that your schedule will not allow you to go to the Pinetina center, conversational lessons are available to you via SKYPE.

La Cucina Dolce

Dennis Coleman and Tami Davies-Coleman

After raising four children and starting to enjoy four grandchildren, Dennis Coleman and his wife Tami Davies-Coleman decided to listen to their relatives. For years, friends and family who received gift baskets of pastries and cookies from Dennis and Tami said, "These are the best since Nonna's. You should open a bakery."

While looking for a commercial kitchen to produce wholesale pastries for restaurants, the couple learned that the storefront at 506 Station Avenue was for rent and had once been a bakery. It was the ideal space and location for their needs. After driving around Haddon Heights, they fell in love with the town. "It's just our style," said Tami. "The architecture of the houses is very appealing and we just had the feeling that we should be here."

These decisions were easy for Dennis and Tami, but harder to execute since they lived and operated a business at the Jersey shore during summer and had a home in Pennsylvania.

Due to commuting constraints they had a soft opening with shortened hours. Encouraged by the number of people who came in on Sundays, La Cucina Dolce had an official grand opening in late September. Stop in or visit the website for grand opening specialties through October. Delicious specialty cakes, pastries and cookies will be available for all your holiday celebrations.

How did Dennis and Tami solve their commuting problem? "Easy, we have sold the business and house at the shore, and our son may buy our Pennsylvania home. We have become part of the charming Haddon Heights community by renting the apartment behind the shop," said Tami. "We now have the pleasure of walking only a few yards to work."

EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT

Officer Daniel Kinkler - Police Department

I want to introduce you to the newest member of the Haddon Heights Police Department, Patrolman Daniel Kinkler. He initially started in law enforcement as a Class II Special Officer, graduated from the Cape May County Police Academy. The Special Officer Academy is ten grueling weeks long where recruits are tested mentally and physically. Daniel graduated third overall in his class and served two summers working for Ocean City PD.

Haddon Heights Police Department - Daniel Kinkler

Daniel then competed for the Haddon Heights position against numerous other candidates who were highly qualified. When the Hiring Committee selected Officer Kinkler they noted he had a genuine interest in serving the community, a strong work ethic, is involved with his family, and is well liked by friends and neighbors. Additionally, he passed an extensive background check, physical fitness exam, psychological and academic testing. He has over seventy-five college credits and had been enrolled at the University of Delaware, which he left so he could apply in Haddon Heights. While at Delaware he participated in the sports of Rugby and Track.

Officer Kinkler is a lifelong resident of Haddon Heights. He has always wanted to be part of the Police Department. The next time you are in Borough Hall check out the police memorial case; inside there is a picture he drew of his hero, John Norcross, when Daniel was just five years old.

I'd personally like to congratulate Daniel on his appointment as a police officer and commend him for his dedication to law enforcement and the community! Welcome to our ranks.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR DEDICATION TO OUR TOWN!

Soldiers will set up camp across from the Hinchman-Hurley House. John Hinchman sided with the British after the Declaration of Independence. Hinchman read a protest at the Gloucester County Courthouse and was literally "run out of town;" his property seized. Three other colonial houses remain in Heights: Colonel Joseph Ellis House on Sycamore, John Glover House on Sylvan and Chalkley Glover House on New Jersey Avenue. Glover joined the Patriot cause and was "read out" of his Quaker Meeting. Ellis enlisted with the New Jersey Militia and fought with the Gloucester County Militia and is frequently mentioned in "The Gallant Men of the Delaware River Forts," fighting at Fort Mercer, and Cooper's Creek.

Re-enactors of the 2nd Pennsylvania portray typical troops on both sides. The 2nd Pennsylvania is noted for its valiant service with Gen. Anthony Wayne. During this living history event soldiers will set up camp and campfires, service equipment, prepare foot conduct drills and speak with local compatriots. Patriot women will prepare and cook meals. Cannons and muskets will be fired.

Refreshments, musket balls and Continental money will be available for sale. The Encampment is free, rain or shine. You and your families are invited to bring a picnic and spend the day. A one hour Walking Tour of Revolutionary War Haddon Heights will take place at 2:00 p.m. A brochure describing the history of these houses is available at the Library.

Registration Now Open for HHYA Winter Basketball

Now is the time to plan for your children to stay physically active during the winter months. Basketball is fun way to exercise with your friends. Whether your child is new to basketball or a returning hoops player, there is fun physical activity available for everyone.

HHYA offers a recreation (REC) league and a more competitive travel league. Registration is now open for all boys and girls leagues. Both leagues offer instruction and fun competition for boys and girls grades first to sixth. The time to register for both leagues is September and October. Don't wait until the last minute!

The REC League offers clinic-style instruction, allowing the opportunity to teach the fundamentals of the game and good sportsmanship. Friendly game competition is also part of the program. The 9-week REC league will begin Sunday, January 6, 2013 and end Sunday, March 3. Gym space permitting, the season is topped off with a few "open gym nights" which allows additional practice for all children. The REC fee is $50 for the first child, $40 for each additional child. Fee includes an official league t-shirt and basketball for kids new to the program. The deadline to register for the REC League is Monday, November 26, 2012. A $20 late fee will be assessed for any late registration.

The HHYA boys and girls travel league is offered to interested players in grades third through sixth. It's a competitive league that competes against neighboring towns in the Camden County Basketball League (CCBL). Travel league players are also required to participate in the REC League (Sundays only). Skills evaluations for travel basketball will take place in November and practices will begin in December. Games will begin late December or early January. The travel fee is $125 for the first child, $80 for each additional child. Fee includes the REC league fee (and t-shirt) and the travel league fee. The deadline to register for the travel basketball league is Wednesday, November 7, 2012. A $20 late fee will be assessed for any late registration. Late registrations for travel are not guaranteed and will only be accepted space permitting.

Any first-time participants with HHYA Basketball receive a free basketball. Registration and payment for both leagues must be completed online at www.HHYA.org. Corporate sponsorship is vital to the success of HHYA Sports. If you are a local business owner or are employed by a company that's interested in learning more about the HHYA Sponsorship Program, please email HHYASports@gmail.com. WELL BEING

Why We Do What We Do - HH Good Neighbors

"A community needs a soul if it is to become a true home for human beings. You, the people, must give it this soul."

Pope Paul II

For over 30 years, YOU, the people of Haddon Heights, have helped to give our community a soul. Through Haddon Heights Good Neighbors, you extended a hand to those who were down and provided a voice of encouragement to those who needed to know that someone was listening.

With your generous support, from October 1, 2011 through September 30, 2012, we were able to provide the following assistance and payments:

- Holiday food certificates for 34 families (103 individuals);
- Hot meals to 16 residents of Stanfill Towers;
- Security deposits, rent and shelter payments for 10 families;
- Utility bills for 5 families;
- Medical expenses for 3 individuals;
- Transportation costs, storage costs, and purchase of air conditioners for a total of 5 individuals; and
- 20 deliveries of local, fresh produce grown and provided by the Haddon Heights Community Garden

Some of the people who received help can best express it:

"Thank you for being there – you made our holiday so much brighter!"

"We can now get badly needed eyeglasses for our children."

"You came along when we really needed you."

Haddon Heights Fall Festival

If you're looking for family style fun, check out street performances up and down Station Avenue. Singer/songwriter and USA Worldwide Showcase winner Irene Bolletino will grace the stage in front of the Haddon Heights Public Library starting with the National Anthem at noon until 3 p.m. In between Irene's performances, watch some neat karate moves from the students of the AmeriKick Karate Studio and follow the graceful performance of the Nancy Mulford School of Dance, and Sheila E's Dance Center dancers. Watch out for our balloon animal maker and free face painter.

Food carts for children and adults are available in all the blocks. Fair favorites include funnel cakes, fried Oreos, root beer floats, chili dogs, pizza, and special water ice to name a few.

Craft and food vendors are still welcome to sign up for the event. In order to maintain a high level of service and to ensure the safety of festival goers it is required that food vendors have permits from the Camden County Board of Health. For more information or to inquire about space availability, please contact Bob Hunter, Haddon Heights Business and Professional Association Vice President by phone from 9 am to 5 pm at 856-547-7132, or through e-mail at fallfestival@haddonheights.biz. You may also visit the Haddon Heights

Business and Professional Association website at www.haddonheights.biz.

For Inquiries on partaking in the Corvette show, please contact Jeff at 856-912-5200 or Nick at 856-939-0506 or visit www.ogscc.com.

The Haddon Heights Business and Professional Association is a non-profit organization that provides support and enrichment to Haddon Heights Businesses and Professionals for over 35 years. The Junior Women's Club of Haddon Heights started the annual Fall Festival many years ago. They passed the reins to Heights Business and Professional Association who has organized the Fall Festival for 14 years now.

Parents Need Support? Try Gospel-Centered Family

Beginning September 30 for six weeks St. Mary's Episcopal Church will provide a study in sermon and small group of parenting and family life: Gospel-Centered Family: Becoming the Parents God wants you to be! We at St. Mary's understand what it means to live the gospel of Jesus Christ in your daily life. So, in this very practical study about family life, we will focus on what it means to rest in grace as parents, to respond with grace to our children and to teach them to hope in grace themselves. This emphasis is a must for parents, grandparents and all those adult role models in your family. Find our more on our website www.stmaryshh.org or call us at (856) 547-3240.
