WATER FEATURES*

STREAMS

• Kings Run is the stream that runs from the Cannons past the former Glover Fulling Mill to Kings Hwy.

• Little Timber Creek is a separate stream within the Big Timber Creek watershed that starts in Tavistock, runs partly underground in pipes, emerges to become the boundary between Haddon Heights and Barrington and between Bellmawr and Mt. Ephraim, before joining the Big Timber Creek and emptying into the Delaware River between Gloucester City and Brooklawn.

• South Branch of Newton Creek begins in Haddon Lake Park in Haddon Heights and flows northwest toward Gloucester City.

WATERSHEDS

• Big Timber Creek Watershed drains an area of 63 square miles in Camden and Gloucester Counties, including 48% of Haddon Heights.

• Newton Creek Watershed is the smallest watershed entirely within Camden County, draining an area of only 13.6 square miles, including 52% of Haddon Heights.
