Town-Wide Yard Sale

Saturday, October 14

Join us on Saturday October 14th for the Haddon Heights Town Wide Yard Sale Day! You can find more information and the sign up sheet on Page 24.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE:

Dear Neighbors:

I hope everyone had an enjoyable summer. To me, it seemed like it flew by this year! I want to extend my best wishes to all our students as they begin a new school year. I would also like to thank our teachers for their hard work and dedication. Have a fun and safe school year!

With our schools back in session, fall sports are in full swing and daylight is getting shorter, it is more important than ever that everyone be careful while driving throughout town. Please obey all speed limits and keep an eye out for our children.

By now you should have received your 2017-2018 tax bills along with my letter explaining in detail the breakdown of your taxes. Even though the Borough is required to collect all of the taxes, just approximately 22 percent of the total amount is kept by the Borough. The remainder goes toward the County and the schools. We stretch these dollars as best as we can so that we can provide the level of municipal services that keep our quality of life high. We also use sound financial management techniques to make sure that your money is spent wisely. We just scored 100 percent on our recent financial assessment, which is good news and reflects good fiscal management. Of course, if you have any questions about the budget, taxes or services, please do not hesitate to contact me.

I'd like to thank our Haddon Heights Neighbors Committee for their terrific work on the annual Spaghetti Dinner. They transformed Station Avenue into an outdoor restaurant for over 200 people on a beautiful day. These events take so much time to plan and execute and our dedicated volunteers do a wonderful job. The Community Bonfire is scheduled for October 13th at 6:30 at the Cabin - please come out to this free event!

There are many other great fall events coming up such as the Fall Festival, Town Wide Yard Sale, Hoots n' Howls and others. Please take a close look at this issue of the HEIGHTS REPORT, the Borough website, haddonhts.com as well as the Borough Facebook page for updates on the many events planned by our wonderful volunteer organizations.

In conclusion, I would like to thank our many volunteers in town. From our Fire Department to people who serve on committees to people who volunteer for so many different activities. Our town has such a strong spirit of service. We take care of each other and look out for each other. That is one of the many things that makes our town special and keeps it such a great place to live.

As always, if there is anything your government can do to help you, please reach out to us.

Mayor Jack D. Merryfield

Revolutionary War Encampment

Saturday, October 14, 2017, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., rain or shine

Haddon Heights is a registered town in the Crossroads of the American Revolution, a National Heritage Area between Philadelphia and New York. Four Revolutionary War houses can be found in Haddon Heights, said Rose Fitzgerald, Event Organizer. Three patriots' houses remain: Colonel Joseph Ellis House on Sycamore, John Glover House on Sylvan and Chalkley Glover House on New Jersey Avenue. The one Loyalist House is the John Hinchman House on North Park Drive.

Historical markers describing history of these houses have been placed, with owners' permission, by the Historical Society.

"The Revolutionary War was a conflict of few great battles but many skirmishes. Troops fought in this corridor to protect or sabotage movement between these cities. Local militia harassed the British by destroying bridges, including the corduroy (log) bridge over King's Highway, cutting down trees to block roads and firing into the lines. The British in turn ransacked homes and business, including the Glover House and Glover Fulling Mill which had been recently built. The British stole food and livestock and ravished Patriot women. John Hinchman III sided with the British after the Declaration of Independence, reading a protest at the Gloucester County Courthouse.

He was literally 'run out of town'; and his property near the Barrington Circle seized," said Mrs. Fitzgerald. A brochure is available at the Library.

Glover joined the Patriot cause and was "read out" of his Quaker Meeting. Re-enactors portray typical troops on both sides. The 2nd Pennsylvania is noted for its valiant service with Gen. Anthony Wayne. During this event soldiers will set up camp, service equipment, prepare food, conduct drills and speak with local compatriots. Patriot women will prepare and cook meals. Cannons and muskets will be fired.

The Encampment is free, rain or shine. For more information: Councilwoman Kathy Lange, 546-4852; Rose Fitzgerald 547-3950.

Haddon Heights Neighbors

Stella, the man-eater from Manayunk, has been reincarnated a "38th time" in Haddon Heights and wants to teach you the fine art of acting.

Haddon Height's resident Karen Scioli, aka Stella, was the longtime host of KYW-TV Channel 3's "Saturday Night Dead," a television show from 1984 to 1990 that hosted schlocky B-Horror films every Sunday morning at 1 a.m. after "Saturday Night Live."

Scioli will be hosting a free eight week murder mystery workshop for senior citizens every Thursday from 3 to 5 p.m., Oct. 12 to Dec. 7, at the Cabin, 600 West Lippincott Lane. The workshop is sponsored by Haddon Heights Neighbors and registration will be handled on a first come, first serve basis.

"I provide a safe place for my students to open their hearts and souls and putting all that into the monologues written by masters is an awesome experience. Even if you don't want to be an actor, my classes will change the way you look at yourself and the world around you. This senior murder mystery class is going to be a lot of fun. While implementing the training I give to my regular adult class students, we'll top it off with the extra bonus of writing and performing a murder mystery. My favorite students have been my senior students. Watching an 80-year-old actress student perform a Tennessee Williams monologue changed me. The wisdom and life experience older actors bring to the work is a gift to me," she said.

Scioli began her show business career in Atlantic City, playing the accordion during the summer with her sister for crowds on the famed Steel Pier.

"I was always in school plays, putting on shows myself, etc. I did a lot of street theater in Philly, South Street, to be exact, in the 70s. In the 80s I studied acting in NYC under Paul Zakrzewski at The Center for the Acting Process. That's where I got my hard-core formal training," she said.

Hoping to capitalize on the popularity of Cassandra Peterson's famous horror host character "Elvira," KYW-TV purchased a package of old horror movies and decided to hold an open audition for a young, attractive female horror host for its new program. Philadelphia had several male horror hosts on its airwaves prior to "Saturday Night Dead," including John Zackerley's "Roland" and "Dr. Shock" character, but never a woman host.

"So the station decided to continue the legacy and search for a female this time. I auditioned on a Sunday morning at 9 a.m. and was one of 150. I made the top-10 finalists, and voila, I got the part. I think my comedy background is what did it. This was in 1984. The show was on for six years. Changed my life. In a good way. Also in a bizarre way, but it's all good. It was mostly an acting gig for me but growing up I loved the old Hammer House movies and the black and white scary ones from an earlier era," Scioli said.

Each week, Stella would introduce the night's movie ("Zombie Lake," "Bluebeard," and the "Tomb of Ligeia" were just a few of the classics aired during its run) and would return to discuss the film with other regulars of the program or special guests.

Trudy Haynes, the first African American news reporter for KYW-TV, singer-actress Jane Norman, the host of "Pixanne," a children's show on WCAU-TV in Philadelphia, and Sally Starr, a prominent 1950s celebrity television host, all made appearances on "Saturday Night Dead."

Sadly, Scioli said few recognize her today as "Stella," but the character lives on in the Horror Host Hall of Fame. Scioli was elected to the hall in 2011, in the same class as Elvira, and attended the ceremony with her husband Rick. Scioli will also be inducted into the Broadcast Pioneers of Philadelphia Hall of Fame on Nov. 17 for her broadcast career.

But Scioli is not just focused on the past, as her passion for teaching others the art of acting grows with each class she hosts. "I have a new passion and love of teaching acting. I believe I can bring the actor out in anyone and this creative discovery is intense and intoxicating. It's like discovering the artist within you," she said.

To register for her murder mystery class, please visit the Haddon Heights Neighbors website at www.facebook.com/haddonheightsneighbors, email programcoordinator@haddonhts.com or call 856-546-2585.

Walking Tour of Revolutionary War Haddon Heights

Patriots Loyalist

Haddon Heights Had Both!!!!

The Heights Heritage League will hold a brisk two-mile WALKING TOUR of Revolutionary War Haddon Heights on Saturday, October 14 at 3:00 beginning at the Encampment at North Park and Tenth. Rose Fitzgerald will conduct the tour past the three of pre-Revolutionary War houses and the archeological site of the Glover Mill.

First stop is the Hinchman House, the oldest continuously occupied house in Camden County, shown on Thomas Sharp's map of 1710. Three other houses remain from the early days of Haddon Heights - the Colonel Joseph Ellis House on Sycamore, the John D. Glover House on Sylvan and the Chalkley Glover House on New Jersey Avenue. The Col. Ellis House appears on a map painted on the wall of the Constitution Center in Philadelphia, noted Mrs. Fitzgerald, a copy of a 1787 map of the area.

The newly fenced in remains of the Glover Fulling Mill will be pointed out. The fulling mill was the first industry in the area - used to wash, process, dye and stretch fabric that had been woven by local women. The mill and the houses are listed on the State and National Register of Historic Places.

The walk is free and should take about 90 minutes, rain or shine. All are welcome to attend. Call 547-3950 with questions. A brochure describing the history of these houses is available at the Haddon Heights Library.

Police Department

HHPD's deploys Social Media effort to stop crime with 9 pm Routine. Even though Haddon Heights is a small town compared to larger communities such as Gloucester Twp, Cherry Hill Twp, and Winslow Twp, burglaries & petty thefts continue to be an issue for our community.

With that in mind, HHPD wants to remind residents to use precautions to help themselves & law enforcement keep our community safe. Obviously our main goal to apprehend criminals when they commit crimes, but something as simple as making sure all is secure deters thieves from criminal activity altogether and prevent citizens from becoming victims.

HHPD is encouraging all residents to begin the #9pmRoutine. HHPD read about the Pasco County Florida Sheriff's Office (FL), who originally introduced the #9pm Routine, and HHPD believes it would be successful in Haddon Heights as well.

The idea is to periodically remind residents, through a simple Facebook post or Tweet, to check their property including cars, sheds, front, & back doors every night at 9 pm, assuring they have locked up everything before going to bed. Turning on exterior lights also deters thieves who use the cloak of darkness to commit thefts. HHPD believes these small steps can make a huge difference. Our goal is to make this everyone's "routine" each and every night without a reminder.

HHPD officers diligently patrol and work to catch criminals in the act. However, if a resident locks up their property and removes articles from sight, they apply a tremendous effort in removing a criminal's opportunity even to commit a crime.

This simple concept applies to any city, something to consider no matter where you live, so let all your family and friends know as well. Together we can make a dramatic difference. Follow us on Facebook: HaddonHeightsPoliceDepartment or on Twitter @HHPolice

Haddon Heights Solicitors License

Solicitors in Haddon Heights are required to obtain a Solicitation Permit from the Borough Tax Office in order to solicit business "door-to-door" in our community. HHPD then does a thorough background check on each and every solicitor, including fingerprinting through the NJ State Police, to assure potential solicitors do not have a criminal background in order to protect our residents and businesses.

If you encounter a solicitor in your neighborhood, or at your front door, they are required to carry and display with them the below Solicitor Identification Card which will have their Photograph (where HHPD Seal is) on it when issued to them from HHPD. If you encounter a solicitor and they do not have the below credential we ask you to contact the Haddon Heights Police Department immediately to have them investigated.

One tactic burglars use is to knock on doors to see if anyone answers then make up some strange story if someone answers. If no answer they may look for a way to enter in order to commit a burglary.

Be aware of scammers and those illegally soliciting; moreover, call 9-1-1 immediately to summon the police if you feel uneasy about any situation or subject in our community. HHPD would like to thank our residents for being our "extra eyes & ears" in helping keep our community safe.

Haddon Heights Good Neighbors

Throw kindness around like it was confetti
-Author Unknown

When you read this quote, you start to understand how the Haddon Heights Good Neighbors Program operates. This fiscal year, we have helped over 9 families (21 individuals) with rent, security deposits, gift cards, and utility bills. In addition, we distributed 20 John's Friendly Market food certificates to 12 families for Thanksgiving or Christmas. In order to help spread our kindness with confetti, we work with other town organizations including Saint Vincent de Paul of St. Rose, the Haddon Heights Public School nurse, and the Sons of Italy. "Throwing kindness" is so much fun when it helps so many people.

Haddon Heights Good Neighbors, HHGN, was formed in 1979 to provide short-term financial assistance of a material nature to residents in need. As an organization of the people, by the people, and for the people of Haddon Heights, our goal is to help members of our town when they are struggling. After all, shouldn't a sense of community come with a sense of responsibility?

One way of helping HHGN to accomplish its goal is to join the organization. We typically meet the 1st Wednesday of January, May, September, and November. Meetings are held in Borough Hall at 7:00 PM. New members are always welcome.

Another way to help is make a donation. Your contribution will be used to assist residents in our community and whether it goes toward rent, utilities, groceries, or home repairs, we investigate every request and independently determine its worthiness. Our hands-on approach ensures that money goes where it is needed the most.

During October, you will be receiving our yearly fund drive letter. Please make a contribution and help us continue to "throw kindness as if it were confetti." No donation is too small.

WHO ARE THE HADDON HEIGHTS GOOD NEIGHBORS? YOU ARE.

Haddon Heights Good Neighbors is a non-profit, non-sectarian, non-political organization. It has never had a paid employee or officer. All work is done by volunteers, and anyone who makes a donation is a member. No donation is too small and no act of kindness is too inconsequential! There are a couple of ways you can make a donation. You may use PayPal with the following link: <http://www.hhgoodneighbors.org/donate.html> Or, if you wish to make a donation by check, please make the check out to HHGN, and mail it to:

Interfaith Caregivers

Join Your Neighbors • Help Your Neighbors

For over 25 years Interfaith Caregivers has been helping Haddon Heights' residents 65+ and people with disabilities live independently and stay active in their community. If so call our office at 354-0298.

Many of your neighbors are already helping our 90 Haddon Heights' clients. Won't you join them? Give as much time as you have – an hour or two a week or a month. We work around your schedule. Call us whenever you have some time, or check online to see how you can help.

Come to our volunteer orientation on Tuesday, October 18 from 7 to 9:30 pm at the First Presbyterian Church of Haddon Heights, 28 Seventh Avenue, Haddon Heights or Wednesday, November 1 from 7-9:30 pm at the Mabel Kay Senior Center, 24 Walnut Street, Haddonfield. Bob Hunter Honored - DATE CHANGE

Bob Hunter has been named Interfaith Caregivers' 2017 Volunteer of the Year and will receive the Joan H. Gault Service Award on October 24, at Treno's, 222 Haddon Avenue, Haddon Township from 6:30 – 8:30 pm. This award recognizes the outstanding service of individual volunteers who have shown dedication to Interfaith Caregivers, our clients and our communities.

A Haddon Heights resident, Bob joined Interfaith Caregivers in 2010 as a member of the Board of Trustees. He served as President from 2011-2014 while also serving on the Finance, Sponsorship and Board Development Committees. Bob is most proud of his work on the Finance Committee where he worked to develop policies to ensure the financial stability of Interfaith Caregivers.

If that was not enough, Bob became a direct service volunteer providing the much-needed services to our clients. Even though Bob is no longer on the Board of Trustees, he continues to serve on committees and is always advocating for Interfaith Caregivers within the community.

Please join us to celebrate Bob on October 24. For information concerning tickets visit www.ifchaddons.org or call 856.354.0298.

Little Free Libraries

In 2009, Todd H. Bol of Wisconsin started a nonprofit to inspire readers and strengthen communities. His "neighborhood book exchanges" welcomed everyone to take a book, leave a book - all on the honor system. The Little Free Library movement was started and, I am thrilled to report, has reached our hometown. To date over 1,000 books have been circulated!

Currently, there are four little libraries in Haddon Heights all started by their stewards for individual reasons. Kristen James' library at 7th and Green is a tribute to her mom who instilled in her a love for books and reading. Shannon Raetsch (3rd and High) and Asiyah Kurtz (3rd and Green) installed their libraries to share a love for reading with neighbors. Estyr Bomgardner's library (Sylvan and 13th) was a birthday gift to her from her husband after she spotted one on a wooded path in Virginia.

While these adorable little structures can be purchased as a kit, most people like to build their own and one here in town mimics the shape of the house it behind it. Common sense suggestions to add one to your property include placing it in a safe, visible location that does not overhang the sidewalk or street or obstruct pedestrian traffic. The structure should be sized so that there would be no attempt to enter it, at a reasonable height from the ground and securely attached or anchored in the ground. The owner would need to keep it tidy and monitor the donations so that books are suitable for children or adult readers.

We are grateful to these residents for their generosity of spirit and their acceptance of their role as caretakers. When the time comes to add a Little Library to our Kindness Garden at Hoff's Park we will be reaching out for someone to help build a structure - perhaps mimicking the log cabin! In the meantime, let's show our appreciation by being respectful users and contributors. Questions: Kathy Lange - klange@haddonhts.com Kathy Lange, Director of Parks and Rec and Mayor Jack Merryfield, present a Certificate of Recognition to Barbara Hoff Robinson to commemorate the 60th Anniversary of the founding of the Haddon Heights Summer Program. Norm Robinson, Barbara's father, a HHS teacher, coach and Athletic Director, ran the summer program for over 20 years at the Borough Park which now bears his name. Barbara enjoyed the summer program as a child and later became an assistant to her Dad. When Lange revived the Summer Program in 2010, Barbara renewed her association with Summer Rec donating many items each year. Pictures, news clips and other memorabilia were displayed at the meeting and can be enjoyed at John's Market and the Library.

Kindness Garden Planned for Hoff's Park

The new Small Explorers Park will have a nature component called the Kindness Garden. Conceived as a way to help youngsters connect with nature in a playful way, this area will feature a child sized, natural, exploring tunnel formed by willow whips, a large "kindness rock", a reading bench, a really little library, a small walking labyrinth and pollinator plants. The drawings are one possible version of how this area will be laid out; planned to be in close proximity to the new toddler play station and existing equipment. The willow whips were planted in late Spring and you can see the tunnel starting to take shape. While the Library will be donating the reading bench, contributions are needed to move this project forward. Please consider donating and forward a check, payable to Borough of Haddon Heights, memo: Small Explorers to Borough Hall, 625 Station Ave., Haddon Heights, NJ 08035. We appreciate your support. CAPS ON!

We have received confirmation from the Boro's recycler that most bottle caps are made from #5 plastic, and are recyclable! However, the recommended method is to PUT THE CAPS BACK ON the bottle for recycling. We no longer have to have special collection containers just for caps. When the caps are loose, they often clog the equipment. The bottles and caps are ground up into flakes, which then allows the recycling process to separate the two types of plastic – bottles are mostly #2, and caps are mostly #5. If you read the Service Operations Facility page in your community calendar, acceptable recyclable materials include #1, #2, #4, #5 and #7 plastics. Here's a YouTube link to a quick video on plastic recycling: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=apOgE88Q8fs>. Sustainable Haddon Heights

Haddon Heights Gets the Most "HITS" on Classic Towns' Website

In 2008 the Delaware Valley Regional Planning Commission (DVRPC) introduced a new marketing program entitled Classic Towns of Greater Philadelphia aimed at growing, revitalizing and supporting the region's older suburbs. The initiative was initially designed to promote Classic Towns as great places to live, work and play. More than one million people re-locate within the Greater Philadelphia region every year; this program highlights "classic" communities and helps residents re-discover the beauty and diversity of our older towns.

Although Greater Philadelphia as a whole is promoted as a tourist destination and business center, DVRPC felt that many suburban communities lacked the resources necessary to launch sophisticated marketing programs that target specific demographic groups. Understanding that the lifestyle and community amenities people desire may change as they move through different life stages, Classic Towns of Greater Philadelphia was developed to appeal to three target markets: young professional/childless couples, young families and empty nesters.

Haddon Heights was one of the 11 inaugural Classic Towns selected, including: Ambler, Bristol, Doylestown, Lansdowne, Media and West Chester; the Philadelphia neighborhoods of Manayunk and Overbrook Farms; and Collingswood, and Riverton. Since 2010, 14 more towns have applied and joined the Classic Towns program.

Classic Towns uses postcards, social media (like Facebook) shout-outs, and articles to promote its towns. In 2016 they more than tripled their total website visits. In DVRPC's Classic Towns of Greater Philadelphia 2016 STATUS REPORT, Haddon Heights received the fourth most "clicks"!

Don't Waste Those Precious Autumn Leaves

It's that time of year again when our yards become inundated with fallen leaves. Tired of all that raking or blowing leaves out of your lawn week after week? Well, you can save time, energy and work for yourself as well as be more environmentally-friendly by mulching them and using them in your yard and gardens. It also saves Haddon Heights time and money picking up and transporting your leaves to a composting facility. Remember, if you do rake or blow your leaves, do not put them into the street and keep them at least 10 feet from storm sewers. Also do not mix in any other yard waste and DO NOT PUT IN THE CLASSIC BLACK PLASTIC "YARD AND LEAF BAGS"!

Here are five ways to use leaves in your garden.

1. Compost Leaves - Autumn leaves, especially those that have been shredded by a lawn mower, are dream additions to the compost pile. Leaves are a great source of "brown," high-carbon material for the compost. Simply alternate layers of shredded leaves with the regular green materials you'd add to your such compost pile as vegetable and fruit scraps, weeds, and plants that you pull out in your fall garden clean-up, and let it sit over the winter. Aerate or turn the pile when you think of it, and by planting time you'll have finished compost. You can also plan ahead to start new beds by laying down cardboard covered with mulched leaves in the fall, let it sit over the winter and plant the new bed in the spring.
2. Make Leaf Mold - Leaf mold is a fantastic garden amendment made from leaves with some garden soil or compost added. It should sit for about a year. After that time, it is great for vegetable and flower gardens as well as added to potting soil.
3. Create Mulch - First, shred your leaves with your lawn mower. This is the one time a year that bagging is a good thing. Bagging when you do a normal cutting of your grass wastes a great resource. The cut grass adds nutrients to the grass as well as keeping weeds at bay. Contrary to some beliefs, it does not cause thatch. But in the fall, use your bag to collect the mulched leaves. Many lawnmowers now have a specific recommendation for the height of the mower when you are mulching. The shredded leaves can be used in flower beds, vegetable gardens, and under trees and shrubs by applying a 2-3 inch layer of shredded leaves to the beds without touching the stems and trunks of the plants. The mulch retains moisture in the soil and limits weed seed germination all the while providing nutrients to the plants. Plan ahead if you have a composter and save a container or so of leaves over the winter since leaves are hard to come by in summer. Healthy compost demands both "browns" such as leaves and "greens" such as vegetable waste. Now is the time to be sure you have leaves for next summer.
4. Mowing - Should you decide you do not want to use the shredded leaves in your garden beds, still mulch the leaves with your mower and let them stay on the grass—"Leaf them alone". The small pieces of leaves that remain will break down over the winter resulting in less lawn weeds next year. You will not have to rake a single leaf if you do it this way.

There you have it! Less work in the yard; more free time to enjoy the wonderful fall weather and the fun activities that it brings.

JEREMIAH WATSON MEETS THE JERSEY DEVIL!

Chatsworth blueberry farmer Jeremiah E. Watson, forty-nine, claims to have been STOPPED by the Jersey Devil while crossing the White Horse Pike this Wednesday past.

"I saw him plain as day."

Me and my horse Pardner were on our way home from my blueberry field last Wednesday afternoon. It was raining pretty good so we decided to cut across the White Horse Pike and take the shortcut back to my cabin.

Pardner sensed something and refused to take the shortcut. Before I knew it, a loud shrieking cry came from out of the sky. A second later a winged creature landed not fifty feet from us.

My horse spooked and took off. I stared at this thing for a few seconds and he stared back at me. Before I could move, he stomped his cloven hooves on the muddy road and began hissing. His green eyes were glowing and he looked pretty mad for us using his road.

From all the stories I heard growing up, I was sure I was looking at the JERSEY DEVIL.

After searing the daylight out of me, he flapped his wings then took off into the rainy afternoon sky.

It's a day I'll never forget all right!

When the Jersey Devil Terrorized Haddon Heights

The Jersey Devil, the most famous figure in New Jersey folklore, visited Haddon Heights on January 20th, 1909. He circled in the air above the intersection of Station and East Atlantic Avenues above a trolley car full of people. (Back then, there were trolley tracks running along East Atlantic, carrying passengers from Camden to Clementon, with many stops in between.) The particular trolley car that attracted the Jersey Devil was traveling late at night, taking passengers home from Clementon Lake Park.

The earliest printed story of the Jersey Devil appeared in the Atlantic Monthly magazine in May 1859. The article explained that the Devil was a son born to "Mother Leeds" in 1735 in Burlington Township on a stormy night. The baby, upon delivery, immediately transformed into a beast with the head of a horse, wings of a bat, and a serpent's tail that "be-pommeled" his mother before flying out the window. First called the Leeds Devil, the creature supposedly devoured children, abused maidens, and mauled young men before a holy man's "enchantment" kept him away for 100 years. A century later, the awful monster reappeared, howling and screaming in the dark Pine Barrens. The article concluded that few Jersey men will "brave the supernatural terrors of the gloomy forest at night..."

The strange activities of 1909 occurred over a one-week period starting on January 16th. On the first day, both a policeman and the postmaster in Bristol PA saw a flying creature that then left tracks in Burlington, and was subsequently seen at a shipyard in Gloucester City. Over the next few days, the Devil was seen in Collingswood, Moorestown, and Riverside.

Then, on Wednesday, January 20th, at 2am, the trolley stopped in Haddon Heights to discharge a passenger, and the Jersey Devil circled the car menacingly, with the passengers' faces pressed to the glass windows as he soared away. The paper reported that Lewis Boeger of Haddon Heights described the creature he saw as resembling a hideous "kangaroo with large wings.... about 4 feet high."

After terrorizing the trolley, the Jersey Devil was seen throughout the Philadelphia/South Jersey region over the next two days. But then, the creature disappeared. The local Retrospect reported in its February 5th edition that the Collingswood Holly Club had captured the Devil and served him for dinner the previous Thursday, while the "Ninth and Arch Street Dime Museum" in Philadelphia claimed to have him stuffed and on display for the paying public to see. A leading expert on cryptozoology (mystical beasts) theorized that the entire week of terror in 1909 was the work of one Norman Jeffries, Press Agent for the same Philadelphia museum, who planted stories of the Devil and his outrageous behavior in the local media in advance of their Jersey Devil exhibit.

But we'll never know for sure. Whether in the depths of the Pine Barrens, or just in our collective imagination, the Jersey Devil lives on.

RENTAL FACILITIES

Planning a Party or Event?

Need to find a space to host your next party? Look no further! Haddon Heights has two facilities to offer you! The Cabin and The Community Center are available to rent for private parties and functions. Perfect for BBQs, Bridal and Baby Showers, Graduation Parties, Birthday Parties, Receptions, Book Clubs and more! No need to stress about getting your house ready, let Haddon Heights get the room ready for you. What better way to celebrate! Hoff's Playground is conveniently located next to the Cabin and adjacent to the Community Center, children can play within view of adults enjoying their event. There is ample street parking for all of your guests.

If interested in renting one of your hometown's facilities, you can find all the information and pricing on the borough's website at www.haddonhts.com. Just select rentals from the list on the left and select either the Community Center or Cabin for their specific rental information. Both pages offer a slide-show of photos taken of the facilities (some items pictured were rented from an outside source and brought in by the renter.) You will also find a link to a PDF version of our required rental agreement paperwork.

The spaces are rented on a first come, first serve basis. If you are interested in a specific date we recommend calling the office at 856-547-7164 ex. 36 to see if the date and time you would like are available. We can put a tentative hold on the date, while you fill out the paperwork and send it/drop it off to our office along with the required security deposit check. and also a link to print out the required rental agreement. These tentative holds last for a short period of time before they would be released to the next renter. If you have questions or would like to check on the availability of a date/time, please contact Julie Yuhaze at 547-7164 ext. 36 or email at jyuhaze@haddonhts.com.

The Community Center is located at 321 Seventh Ave. It offers a spacious main room with french doors leading to a fenced in yard. It is equipped with a full kitchen & sound system. Round tables & padded chairs are supplied and set up for you by the borough for each event. The Community Center accommodates up to 100 guests.

The Cabin is located at 600 Lippincott Lane. The Cabin offers a charming space which includes a gas fireplace, a small warming kitchen area with a full size refrigerator and audio visual equipment. Tables and chairs are supplied and set up for every event. The Cabin accommodates up to 40 guests.

Sustainable Haddon Heights

Are You Sustainable and "Green" When You Eat at a Restaurant?

We all love to eat out. We try very hard in our everyday home life to be "green" and sustainable but do we carry it to the restaurants we visit? Probably not. There are so many ways we can still support our environment in a restaurant by small things we can do or bring with us. There is so much waste and inefficiency in many local restaurants that it is alarming from huge portions that go back to the kitchen uneaten to piles of napkins and plastic straws. Certainly there are environmentally-friendly restaurants in our area and deserve your patronage but what can you do about the other ones?

1. Water should be served only on request. Generally, the minute you sit down, you are served not only a glass of water but it contains a plastic straw. If you visit the same restaurant frequently, you probably are aware of their routine. If you have the chance to stop the delivery to your table of an unwanted glass of water, do so. Even if you want the water, decline the plastic straw. Not only is most of the water served wasted by only partially being consumed but the glasses waste more water since they must go through the dishwasher whether you touched them or not wasting more energy. If you do want water, opt for tap water. Plastic water bottles use much more energy as well as the raw materials used in bottling and transportation.

2. Straws are a disaster to the environment. Over 8 million tons of plastic enters the oceans every year. In the United States, 500 million straws are used every single day. The average straw is used for 20 minutes before we toss them "away". These types of plastic never completely biodegrades and is turning our oceans into plastic soup. STRAWS CANNOT BE RECYCLED.

It is doubtful that most of us ever use straws at home but feel compelled to use them in restaurants. Okay, for items like a smoothie or milkshake, you really need a straw so invest in either a stainless steel one that can go in the dishwasher when you get home or bring a paper straw with you, thus avoiding the plastic altogether. Having iced tea and need to add a sweetener? Use a metal spoon to stir it.

• Use recycled or recyclable to-go containers instead of Styrofoam. Bring your own container from home if you think you will be bringing leftovers home. Decline all Styrofoam from to-go containers to coffee cups. Styrofoam lasts forever in landfills. Granted, in Camden County most trash goes to the incinerator and not landfills but occasionally, the incinerators need maintenance or repair so you just never know where your trash will wind up. Styrofoam is composed of Benzene and Styrene, both of which are known human carcinogens. The production of Styrofoam is energy intensive creating large amounts of greenhouse gases. Microwaving Styrofoam releases toxic chemicals. Styrofoam takes at least 500 years to decompose and is the primary cause of urban litter, is the main pollutant of oceans, bays and other US waterways and causes choking and starvation in wildlife. Many countries and US cities have banned Styrofoam including:

- New York City (and several other cities in New York)
- Takoma Park, MD
- Seattle, Washington
- Washington DC
- Miami Beach, FL
- Freeport, Maine
- Portland, Maine
- Nantucket (City & County), Massachusetts
- Minneapolis, Minnesota
- Portland, Oregon (and several other Oregon cities)
- Los Angeles County and San Francisco, California (and many other cities and counties in CA)

3. These are only three ways that you easily can maintain your "green" way of life. But that is not enough. If you truly care about the environment, use this as a way to not only educate the wait staff but the manager. Especially in family-owned restaurants, take a minute to either speak to the owner or send an email educating them in a few ways to be a "greener" restaurant. What you may not be thinking about it that it can actually save them money. The money saved by not automatically serving water with a straw, for example, may save them enough money to purchase environmentally-friendly to-go packaging instead of Styrofoam. Spend a few minutes getting the word out. Mother Earth thanks you.
